Cooperative Learning Models in the Classroom

Descriptions of Some Commonly Used Models

All models of cooperative learning utilize the basic elements of positive interdependence, individual accountability, social skills, and group processing.

The first Workshop was attended by the English Teachers in Middle Schools in Dayyer. The workshop was held at Shohada School . Four basic cooperative models was expounded by Mr. Momeni zadeh. Then the teachers talked about the advantages and problems of cooperative learning; such as the large size of classes ( 30 -32 students in class ).

The first Workshop was on the following Cooperative Learning Models:

Think – Pair – Share:

Students think to themselves on a topic provided by the teacher, they pair up with another student to discuss it, they then share their thoughts with class.

Roundrobin:

Each student in turn shares something with his or her teammates.

Roundtable:

Each Students in turn write one answer on a paper and pencil are passed around the group.

Numbered Heads Together :

The teacher ask a question; students consult to make sure everyone knows the answer. Then one student is called upon to answer.

( Thus model is very useful to Review, checking for knowledge and comprehension )
